

Bauddha Darshan
Shastri Second Year
Paper V

Learning outcomes -

3rd Sem

- The students will know the philosophy of Theravada as per the text Abhidhammattha Sangaho.
- In this paper, the Bhumi-bheda on the basis of Chitta-vithi and Manovithi will be discussed in a simple way, so that students will get the philosophical concepts of Buddhist psychology.
- The students will also get to know about the Pudgal-bheda, which is the subtle development relating to soul theory.

4th Sem

- This paper is the continuation of earlier paper, which is based on the Abhidhammattha Sangaha. In this paper, Rupa, which is one of the four fundamental philosophical concepts of Theravada Buddhism, is accorded in a detailed manner.
- The differential types of Rupa is enumerated and explained lucidly that is very beneficial for students.
- In Buddhism, there are four Mahabhutas, such as Pathavi (Earth), Tejo (Fire), Vayu (Air) and Apo (Water). These are the ultimate constituent of this universe.